Arthur Clouston was the Director of Tractor & Motor Services Ltd and Akatarawa Sawmills Ltd.

Later Arthur Clouston was also the Director of the Maidstone Motor and Service Station Ltd.

Rosenberg Street renamed Wakefield Street

Rosenberg Street no longer exists. Rosenberg was a district in Germany and during World War Two Dr Alfred Rosenberg was one of Hitler's chief advisors. The Returned Service Association new rooms were officially opened on Saturday 24 May 1941 in Rosenberg Street and they requested that the street be renamed.

Upper Hutt Leader 27 November 1941

At the Council meeting last week Councillor F Streeter brought forward the matter of alteration of the name of Rosenberg Street to something more appropriate. He stated that at the present time the name of Rosenberg was much in the news, the owner of the name in Germany was known as one of the worst men in modern times and the Council should immediately get the name erased from the town. The street so named in Upper Hutt housed the new RSA and if it could not be changed to Anzac Avenue why not Kain Avenue in remembrance of "Cobber" Kain. Councillor Rendle, Crete Avenue or some such name would be a standing memorial to many of our boys. It was decided to contact the RSA and get their views on the matter.

(Reference Upper Hutt City Library website Upper Hutt Leader 27 November 1941)

Between 1944 and 1946 Rosenberg Street was renamed Wakefield Street. Clouston's Building is situated on the corner of Main Street and southeast Wakefield Street formerly named Rosenberg Street.

Main Street was named as it is the Main Street of the Upper Hutt business district. The first road from Wellington to Taita was completed in 1843 and to Upper Hutt in 1844. Various sections of the road and in-between have been given different names and over the years have changed numerous times. The road through the Upper Hutt district has been recorded as, New Zealand Company Road, Company Road, Military Road, Old Military Road, Great North Eastern Road, Wairarapa Road, Hutt Valley Road, Hutt Road, Main Hutt Road, Main Road, Main Road North, Main Road South, and finally Fergusson Drive. The exception is the section through the Central Business district of Upper Hutt which is now Main Street.

Early occupation and buildings on part Section No 128 Lot 5

What was on the land before Arthur Clouston established the building on the corner of Main Street and Wakefield Street?

By locating information about the people who owned and occupied the land and/or the owners and staff employed in the business that occupied the land we will all learn more about part Section No 128 Lot 5 and Upper Hutt' early history.

Upper Hutt Leader 12 June 1947

A Pioneer Passes – Seventy seven years ago at Te Marua, at the old home known as "Stonestead" the house with its quaint steep two gabled roof, which is still standing there was born John Thomas Benge. His father John Benge, together with his three brothers Sam, Ned and Dave ran a saw mill and when the bush was cleared, engaged in farming. Upper Hutt and its surroundings was dense forest when this band of stalwarts from Devonshire England carved out their primitive dwellings. John Thomas or as he became generally known J T was the first pupil to enrol at the Te Marua School, but being eager to go to work he left school when he had passed Standard 4. At the early age of 14 years he got a job bush felling at Ashhurst. On returning home he joined his father and uncles in the sawmilling business. At the age of 20 he married Miss Emily Collett of Mangaroa. Two sons and two daughters were born to them. His activities were next expended in running a milk round at Petone. Following this he took up farming on his own account at Mangaroa. Here he had the misfortune to have his home burnt, the old-fashioned wood-shingle roof being ignited by a spark from a railway engine. A new dwelling was built, which was family home until 1907 when the farm was disposed of and Upper Hutt became the headquarters. At this time the late Mr Frank Whiteman was engaged in sawmilling at Akatarawa and again Mr Benge rallied to a call for help in handling a tough bush proposition. His next venture was that of blacksmith coachbuilder and undertaker, the shop being located where Gibb's Chemist Shop now stands, but transferred later across the street to the premises so long occupied by the late Mr P Robertson. In 1911 Mr Benge entered the business partnership with Mr J A Hazelwood in which he continued until the business changed ownership in 1944. In 1921 he took a business trip to USA which proved of success in obtaining of agencies which later on resulted in his making trips time after time to all principal towns of New Zealand. Such was his remarkable strength and energy that since his retirement from business three years ago he chose to take on the breaking up and draining of the swampland at Wallaceville Valley (an area- of 782 acres), and was actively engaged on this work until two weeks before his death on Friday last. He was a man of genial and loveable disposition and a great lover of little children, never missing an opportunity to greet them with his bright smile and appropriate words. First and foremost of all his varied interests and activities was his long years of devoted service in the cause of the Church at the Gospel Hall. Here as an elder and member for close on half a century he was "a man greatly beloved." His funeral service was one of the most largely attended that our district has ever known. The service at the Gospel Hall was conducted by Mr J A Hazlewood and Mr A E Salisbury and at the Akatarawa Cemetery by Mr W N Pepperell and Mr S A Edwards. The deceased leaves a widow, two daughters, one son, thirteen grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Among those present at the funeral were Mr J Maher MP and Mrs Maher, Mr J Blewman Mayor of Upper Hutt, Councillors K S Geange and J Purvis, Mr K Arthur present manager of J A Hazelwoods & Co., numerous members of the farming community, including the President of the local Federated Farmers Mr Les Andrews, Sir Kenneth Douglass, Mr B M Wilmsihurst Town Clerk also a large number of the business community - The Passing of Mr J T Benge - When Mr Benge was laid to rest last Sunday about 80 cars followed the cortege. After a busy life of 78 years he has laid aside his trials and is in peace at picturesque Akatarawa, where the magic brush of Mother Nature has painted a picture truly beautiful to behold. Nearby the river sings a merry song ever hurrying to the sea and the night fowl calls to his mate as the darkness comes over the earth. J T as he was affectionately known by the people was a lover of little children. How often have we seen him bending down to shake the hand of some tiny tot or say a cheery word peeping into the pram to greet a little new stranger. We shall miss the happy smile and nod of Mr J T Benge - Ruakawa.

Blacksmiths shop (Robertson's) Upper Hutt taken about 1910, where Clouston's building service station stands now. Presented by Mrs N Kibblewhite on 22 February 1922 the daughter of Alick Wills. From left front, Hector Bengé (boy), Alick Wills, J D Bengé (owner) - back Jack Collie. According to a letter from George Robertson in the 26 August 1970 Leader, his father a wheelwright took over the business in 1911. The letter accompanied the third instalment of Albert Cooper's memories of Upper Hutt School. He said that somewhere around 1909 an attempt had been made to relocate the original building from opposite McHardie Street to the Brown Street site, the three pieces were being towed by traction engine over planks and rollers, but before they reached the site an overnight storm collapsed them. Mr Robertson said some of the school timber had gone into the smithy's structure. The existing Clouston's Building is on the corner of Wakefield Street, opposite McDonald's and dated 1953. The original description suggested this was Clouston's building, but Arthur Clouston was only about three years old.

I believe the photo below was taken in Rosenberg/Wakefield Street. On the left is the St Hilda's original Sunday School Hall. St Hilda's Church was built in 1910 on land given by Philip David Davis. In 1927 the Sunday school hall was removed to Rata Road Akatarawa (St Nicholas) and replaced with half of a military hut from Featherston Camp. The house on the right was the once the property of Muriel Robertson wife of Peter Robertson as drawn on the 1950 DP 15209 lot 8 CT 352-61. The Tractor & Motor Services Co Ltd occupied Lot 5 CT 352-68 before the Dominion Coach Factory building (exact dates unknown). The railway shed on the other side of the railway line is shown on the 1917 photo on the following page (highlighted in red).

Peter Robertson - Rosenberg / Wakefield Street

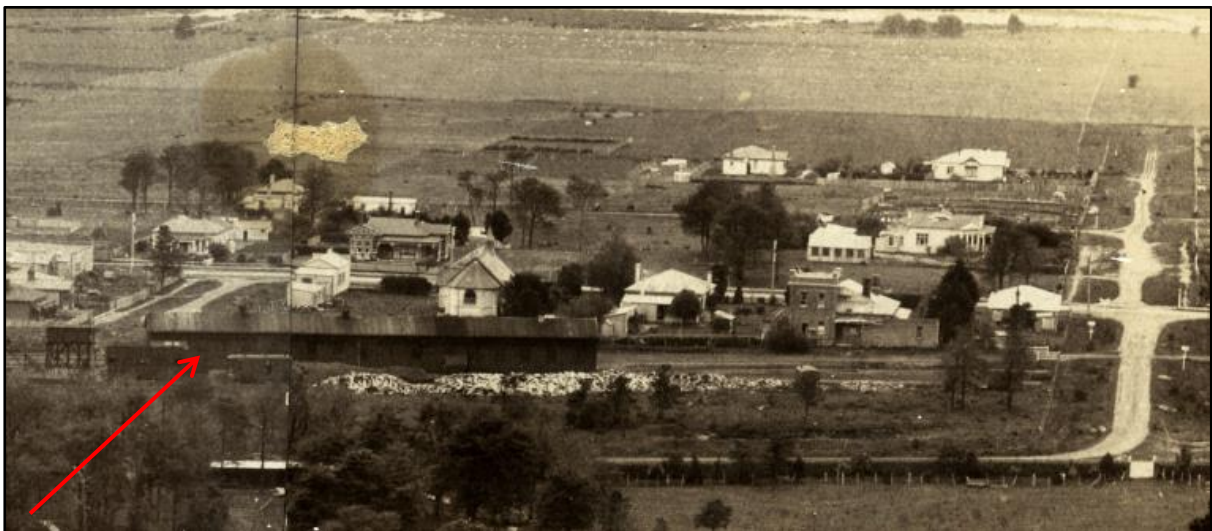

(Reference Upper Hutt City Library Recollect website Mayor Peter Robertson P2-25-40)

Probably the southern end of Station Street with the pre-war RSA at left. Originally described as looking south to the hill behind Maidstone Park, along Wakefield Street (which was renamed from Rosenberg Street during or just after World War II). There are three possible streets, Russell Street, Dwelling on right belonged to Mr and Mrs Wakelin, painters of that name are listed in electoral rolls as living in Russell Street but their house was different from the one pictured here, a picture shows different veranda posts. Wakefield Street, The RSA was not there until 1941. The street was originally Rosenberg Street. Leader 27 November 1941, Councillor F Streeter brought forward the matter of alteration of the name of Rosenberg [sic] Street to something more appropriate. He stated that at the present time the name of Alfred Rosenberg was much in the news, the owner of the name in Germany was known as one of the worst men in modern times (Reich Minister for the Occupied Eastern Territories, among other notoriety), and the Council should immediately get the name erased from the town. Names suggested were Anzac and Cain (Pilot Cobber Cain) or Crete the RSA would be consulted. The street was renamed Wakefield around 1943, but the old name persevered. Station Street, Building on left is the RSA Hall, straight ahead is the railway engine shed. Before the RSA built a hall in Rosenberg Street in 1941 their premises were leased, the 30 November 1939 Leader places the obviously well-known RSA rooms in Station Street, and the building at left could be that clubroom. Man on right was mayor and blacksmith Peter Robertson. In his 1938 mayoral photo he's white-haired, so this picture is earlier, from his 1927-1931 term. Peter Robinson died in 1939. Fordson tractor with trailer fitted. Donor remembers some connection with Campbell's Timber Yard, but no current employees of Campbell's Timber Yard can identify these men. From the cylinder-head shape, this is a 1917-1928 Fordson Model F; the wheels are non-standard. The original photo was held in Harry Tinsley & Son's Mower Centre, 50 Montgomery Crescent; (Murray) Tinsley's Mower Centre later moved to Fergusson Drive.

The above photo shows clearly that on the corner of Main Road and Rosenberg/Wakefield Street there is no building of the Dominion Coach Factory. Was it demolished or was it the building on the Main Road/Street just back from the corner of Rosenberg/Wakefield Street and Main Road/Street.

There is another photograph taken in 1925 which also shows the long railway shed, St Hilda's church and the building on the earlier building on corner of Rosenberg (Wakefield) & Main Road.

When Robert Dick died in 1930, Peter Robertson purchased the shares from his former partner’s estate. Robert Dick’s sole beneficiary was his widow Ellen Mary Dick who died 31 May 1935.

Questions and Comments – Was the photograph of the early Dominion Coach Factory and Veterinary Shoeing Forge building established on the Main Road/Street just back from the corner of Rosenberg/Wakefield Street and Main Road/Street? When was the building demolished? Was the building demolished before 1917?

Dominion Coach Factory employee - Frank JACKSON

Employee of Peter Robertson

Upper Hutt Leader 03 February 1949

Farewell to Mr and Mrs F Jackson and Family - Several functions were held recently in Upper Hutt to farewell Mr and Mrs F Jackson and family, who have gone to reside at Stewart Island. The Upper Hutt Branch of the Hutt Valley Builders Association, held a farewell gathering to them in the Rose of Sharon Hall, when Mr Jackson was presented with a very handsome wall chiming clock. Mr Cleary President of the Branch made reference to Mr Jackson's ability as Secretary, and wished him every success for the future. Several other members of the Branch spoke of the good work done by their late Secretary. Friends from the Railways also gave Mr and Mrs Jackson a send-off in the Railway Social Hall on Saturday 22 January. Messrs I Ross, G Simpson, J.Fahey and Bob Cliff all spoke of the good fellowship that existed between them, stating they would miss the Jackson family. Mr Jackson suitably replied. The Church of England Choir of which Mr Jackson was a member also farewelled Mr and Mrs Jackson and family. Mr Jackson first came to Upper Hutt district in 1910 when his father who was a Railwayman was transferred to the Summit. In 1915 he was employed by the late Peter Robertson as a blacksmith's assistant, working with Alec Wills. Mr Jackson joined the New Zealand Railways in 1920 and after 20 years-service, went into business in Upper Hutt taking over the Tip Top Milk Bar. He was also associated with Mr L G Williams builder. He was a member of the Upper Hutt Male Choir, Church of England Choir, was Secretary of the EFCA for seven years, President of the Upper Hutt Home and School Association for two years and a member of the School Committee for many years. Mr Jackson was the first President of the Upper Hutt Retailors Association, and also Secretary of the local Builders Association. On leaving the district Mr and Mrs Jackson and family wish to express their sincere thanks to the people of Upper Hutt who have been associated with them in the past years whilst they were in business.

Robertson and Dick Carriers operator - William Henry EDWARDS 1936

Evening Post newspaper 30 October 1936

Lorry's Fall Karapoti Gorge Accident Driver Killed - A tragic accident .happened in the Karapoti Gorge beyond Upper Hutt yesterday afternoon when a lorry laden with timber fell from the narrow gorge road into the bed of the stream below. The driver of the lorry William Henry Edwards of Martin Street, Upper Hutt aged 58 a married man with four children received injuries which must have caused immediate death. The lorry was smashed to matchwood. Three other men were in the truck at the time of the accident. They were Christopher Marshall, Alfred Francis Cooper and Joseph Alfred McHugh. McHugh and Cooper were riding on the outside of the lorry, but Marshall was with Edwards in the cab. The accident happened about 3.30 pm at a spot half-way between the new mill and the site of the old mill, about three miles from the junction of the gorge road leading to the sawmill and the main road. At the spot where the accident happened there is a rocky bluff, and the lorry had just passed through this when it left the road. The gorge road is a narrow one, but at this spot it is better than in most places and one who knows the road well says it is about ten feet wide at the point concerned. The lorry laden with timber was travelling from Campbell's mill at a slow speed when it started to leave the road the three men who were passengers in it managed to jump clear. They are unable to give any reason for the accident. There are steep cliffs above at this place and below they are so steep that it is impossible to climb down them. The men returned to the mill and telephoned to the Upper Hutt police who arrived at 4.30 pm and the Free Ambulance, which arrived at 4.45. Block and tackle had to be rigged before the rescuers could descend the cliff and bring up the body of the driver. Very severe head injuries had been received. The truck was smashed almost beyond recognition. The steep cliff was marked with signs of its descent and debris was scattered about the bottom of the gorge. There was nothing to check the fall of the vehicle once it left the road. The deceased is a well-known resident of Upper Hutt. He was in the employ of Messrs Campbell Bros., saw-millers of Karapoti and for the past ten years had been driving along the gorge road. He had lived in Upper Hutt all his life and his father was one of the early residents of the district. The late Mr Edwards was formerly a well-known carrier and carried on the business now known as Robertson and Dick. The bank over which the lorry fell is .200 feet high. An inquest will be held.

Various Upper Hutt leader newspaper articles record Weldall Engineering Works and Weldall Works. The photograph above show clearly that Weldall Engineering Works was situated south of Clouston's corner building. In various Upper Hutt Leaders it records that the Weldall Works was situated next to the Majestic theatre further south in Main Street.

I can confirm that the phone number 3495 is the same for both Weldall Engineering Ltd and Weldall Works Construction.

Around 1967 Weldalls Engineering Works were situated at 168-180 Main Street Upper Hutt.

I believe that they were once situated next the Majestic Theatre then relocated to 168-180 Main Road near the Clouston Building.

In 1969 Weldall's moved from 168-180 Main Street to 1a Brown Street in Upper Hutt. Later still they moved to Jupiter Grove and by 1993 Whakatiki Engineering (1984) Ltd owned and occupied the former Weldalls building.

Clouston Corner building – Radford's Furnishers 1973-1982

(Reference Upper Hutt City Library Recollect website Clouston's Corner Building photographer Brian Pearce #158)

Clouston's Corner building corner Main and Wakefield Streets Upper Hutt undergoing conversion to retail premises for Radfords Furnishers. The photograph was taken in June 1973 from Wakefield Street, looking west. This building was constructed for local saw-miller Arthur Clouston in 1953. The premises consisted of a service station and adjoining workshop opened on 3 June 1953 as Maidstone Motors and Service Station Ltd., Manager Frank Buster Foster, and there was a billiard saloon upstairs run by Charlie Channing. Bob Griffen advertised his modernised Maidstone Motors and Service Station Limited in advertisements starting in March 1970. Radfords announced their intention to set up a 17 000 square foot (1580 square metres) store here, the 21 February Leader picture showed it occupying the whole western side of Wakefield Street. A before picture was printed on a later page. Radfords opened on 25 October 1973 and closed on 26 March 1982. This photograph was used in the book Upper Hutt - The History by Kelleher (1991) on page 64, but regrettably with errors in the caption.

In 1973 the Clouston Building on the corner of Main Street and Wakefield Street underwent major reconstruction to accommodate a new furnishing business. On the 25 October 1973 Radford's Furnishers opened for business. The shop closed 9 years later on 26 March 1982.

Other Radford Furnishing Co., stores were once situated at 209 Jackson Street Petone and 31 Manners Street Wellington.

Clouston's Corner building - Farmers Trading Company

The Farmers Trading Company opened for business on 19 April 1982 in the Clouston building. The top facade of the building was covered up and the name "Clouston Corner" could not be viewed.

Farmer's premises corner of Main and Wakefield streets. Photograph published in the Upper Hutt Leader on 27 September 1983. Bob Griffen had advertised his modernised Maidstone Motors and Service Station Limited here, in advertisements starting in March 1970. The former service station had been converted to retail premises by Radfords Furnishers, who opened there on 25 October 1973, they also added the vertical timbers to the upper floor, hiding the Clouston's Corner names on both facades. On 16 February 1982 Radfords announced that its store would close at the end of March, and that Farmers would be moving in. Radfords closed on 26 March 1982. Farmers had moved part of their Upper Hutt business to this site on 19 April 1982. Their last day of trading there was Sunday 30 October 1994. On Wednesday 2 November 1994 Farmers moved this operation to a second floor in the Maidstone Mall. (Information from Brian Pearce and Don McLeod). After Farmers moved out the first floor timbers were removed, and the Clouston's Corner name was again visible.

Farmers vacated the building on 30 October 1994 and reopened in Upper Hutt's Mall on the other side of Main Street on 02 November 1994. The facade was removed and once again locals could see the name of the building again "Clouston's Corner".

Clouston's Corner building corner Main and Wakefield Streets Upper Hutt photographed in November 1994 from Main Street. The Farmers Trading Company opened here on 19 April 1982 and closed its operation at this site on 30 October 1994 moving that operation to join one in Maidstone Mall which was expanded to two floors. The combined operation opened on 2 November 1994. This picture seems to have been taken while Farmers features were being removed the upper floor had been surrounded by vertical timbers from the time of Radfords (25 October 1973 to 26 March 1982). This photograph with an accompanying article was published in the Upper Hutt Leader on 11 November 2009 under the heading "Farmers 100 years". (Information from Brian Pearce and Don McLeod).
