

1870-1879 Upper Hutt Residents

The early New Zealand censuses were destroyed in the 1960s. I have tried to recreate a type of census for the Upper Hutt residents covering the period between 1870 and 1879 but only for the Upper Hutt district. Additional sources used and information are saved at the end of this document.

The early New Zealand censuses were destroyed in the 1960s. I have tried to recreate a type of census for the Upper Hutt residents covering the period from 1870 to 1879 but only for the Upper Hutt district.

Early New Zealand directories can be found on microfiche and in some published books held at the Heritage centre, Petone Library, Hutt Valley and National Library of New Zealand Wellington. The Directories are also available on the paid website Ancestry.com but this website is available free from charge at the Hutt and Upper Hutt Libraries.

The original 1874 census was taken on Sunday 01 March 1874. By using information from the newspapers article and viewing on the Ancestry website the New Zealand Directories and Electoral Rolls I hope to locate the full names, occupation and dwelling place of the residents. I will also use the New Zealand Registrar Generals Historical website for additional details.

Upper Hutt Directory 1874 - The following names appear in the Wellington Directory as being those of the settlers resident within the Upper Hutt postal district in 1874 and not included in the special lists of outlying settlements published in last week's issue.
(Reference National Library NZ Papers past website Hutt Valley Independent newspaper 02 September 1911 page 4)

Above the Gorge - The Upper Hutt postal district from the Gorge to the Horseshoe Bend contained 94 families. Particulars of whom we will publish later. Mangaroa had 5 families, the Pakuratahi had 6 families and Whiteman's Valley claimed 11 as its settlers. The principal persons were:
