Shanly Street

(Reference UH City Recollect website Shanly Street Church of Samoa P2-791-1918)

Shanly Street origin is unknown. I was informed that the street was named after Nora Shanly a parishioner who worked at St Joseph's orphanage. I have been unable to confirm the story. There was a Nora Evelyn Mary (1923-1988) who was married to Frederick Kevin Shanly (1920-2003). This Nora was associated with St Joseph's in Auckland. In 1943 there was a committee member Mrs Shanly who assisted in organising the farewell for Father Purcell of the Hutt. I believe this was the Mrs (Sarah) Shanly who resided in the Wairarapa. A Francis Joseph Shanly (1866-1937) was a member of St Joseph's Church in Buckle Street Wellington. The Brown Owl subdivision used the theme of naming streets after people who had an association with St Joseph's Orphanage. The subdivision was developed on land that was previously owned and used as a farm for the orphanage. The Samoa Church is situated on the corners of Akatarawa Road, Norbert Street and Shanly Street.

Taunton Way

(Reference Google Maps website Taunton Way Pinehaven)

Taunton Way was named after Taunton Green situated in Papanui Christchurch. Taunton Way is off Harewood Grove and Harewood Grove is off Fendalton Crescent in Pinehaven. Fendalton and Harewood are both suburbs in Christchurch. In 1954 Grimes and Browning purchased land from H W Lyda to developed the Fendalton subdivision. They used a Canterbury theme when naming the streets as they planned to establish a community similar to Christchurch. Grimes & Browning Joinery Limited office was once situated in Christchurch and there is an office in Lower Hutt. I was told it was named after the birthplace Taunton in Somerset England of Henry Freeman's wife Jessie (nee Collins 1853-1925). I was unable to confirm this.
