Supreme Court Criminal Sittings Monday 13 July Civil Sittings BURT v BOOTH

#Thomas BURT plaintiff stated I am lessee of section 116 Upper Hutt. In February last there was a large quantity of standing timber on the land consisting principally of matai and Totara. I did not visit the section during that month but about three weeks ago I went to the section and found that all timber of any value had been cut down. My son William who keeps a store for me at the Upper Hutt had authority to look after the section merely in the capacity of servant. There was no manager there that is to say no manager but him. [full details in Thomas family history]

#Henry BURT brother of the plaintiff stated that in November last there were about sixty Totara and seventy matai trees on the section and several white pine trees in addition. These trees have since been cut down by men who said they were in the employ of the defendant. I told my nephew that I had seen defendant's men cutting down trees and taking away the timber and that they had no right to do so. Cross-examined by Mr Izard - I saw the timber being removed and told the men that my brother the plaintiff would repudiate the contract entered into by my nephew. I told them there would be no objection to the removal of the dead matai but that they had no right to cut the totara. I know that the land had been occupied for some time by saw-millers who had picked the best of the timber. I don't know whether Rouse cut any standing timber to get the piles I saw. No fencing has been put up on the land since Mr Booth went there.

#John Robinson stated I am a farmer but was formerly a saw-mill proprietor for some 12 years. I have noticed standing timber on the land before my visit to the section with the Burts. The timber was totara and matai. There were a good many timber trees. When I went again the timber was all gone and Henry Burt pointed out to me the stumps and tops.

#William Booth junior who stated I am a partner in the firm of W Booth and Co. The defendant is my father. Last year our firm consisting of four partners were carrying on business at the Upper Hutt as sawmill proprietors. I negotiated for timber with Burt junior at his store. My father was present at the time. We all went together to look at the timber before making any agreement. We did not go over the whole of the section but went to a place from which we could see it all.

We saw the timber and talked about it. There was both growing and felled timber on the ground. [full details in Thomas Family History] The first intimation that I had from the plaintiff of any claim was about the 9th of February. Previous to this notice our men had been cutting for more than two months. I had a conversation with Mr Henry Burt and he said nothing about any objection to cutting the timber. The latter said nothing about the ownership of the land. I had been cutting timber before Mr Henry Burt came up. [full details in Thomas Family History] When he came he said, You must stop cutting I replied I had nothing at all to do with him, and would not take any notice of him. He did not say it belonged to his brother. He said we might take the matai, but mustn't touch the totara.

New Zealand Times newspaper 14 July 1874

Supreme Court Criminal Sittings Monday 13 July Civil Sittings BURT v BOOTH

Thomas BURT plaintiff stated I am lessee of section 116 Upper Hutt. In February last there was a large quantity of standing timber on the land consisting principally of matai and Totara. I did not visit the section during that month, but about three weeks ago I went to the section and found that all timber of any value had been cut down. My son William who keeps a store for me at the Upper Hutt had authority to look after the section merely in the capacity of servant. There was no manager there that is to say no manager but him. On the 9th February I wrote a letter to Mr Booth giving him notice that unless he gave compensation for the timber removed I should proceed against him. I never gave Mr Booth authority to cut the timber nor did I give my son any authority to dispose of the timber. My son may have received cut timber from Mr Booth but he did not receive it by authority from me. Cross-examined by Mr Izard - My son has been managing my store for about twelve months, certainly not for two years. I cannot say whether previous to the cause of this action arising my son had given authority to anyone to cut timber. I never gave him authority to do so but I have heard that my son gave authority to a man named

Rouse to cut timber off the section for piles. My son at any rate never accounted to me for any timber or standing bush disposed of from the land. My son has sold hay off the land according to my instructions but I am not aware that my son in selling the hay mentioned that I was the owner of the land. He has taken in cattle to graze and has accounted to me for the moneys accruing therefrom. Previous to my occupancy of the land it had been in the possession of Mr Plimmer, Mr Haslem and Mr. Lawrence all saw-mill proprietors, who had cut a good deal of timber from the land. I had cut a good deal of timber myself for the purpose of fencing the river boundary. Henry BURT brother of the plaintiff stated that in November last there were about sixty Totara and seventy matai trees on the section and several white pine trees in addition. These trees have since been cut down by men who said they were in the employ of the defendant. I told my nephew that I had seen defendant's men cutting down trees and taking away the timber and that they had no right to do so. Cross-examined by Mr Izard - I saw the timber being removed and told the men that my brother the plaintiff would repudiate the contract entered into by my nephew. I told them there would be no objection to the removal of the dead matai but that they had no right to cut the totara. I know that the land had been occupied for some time by saw-millers who had picked the best of the timber. I don't know whether Rouse cut any standing timber to get the piles I saw. No fencing has been put up on the land since Mr Booth went there. John Robinson stated I am a farmer but was formerly a saw-mill proprietor for some 12 years. I have noticed standing timber on the land before my visit to the section with the Burts. The timber was totara and matai. There were a good many timber trees. When I went again the timber was all gone and Henry Burt pointed out to me the stumps and tops. I made a calculation from a memorandum taken on the spot as to the quantity of timber removed. There were upwards of 38,000 feet of totara and of matai, and 3,000 feet of white pine. The value of the trees was 2s. 6d. per hundred feet for totara, 1s. 6d. for matai, and 1s. for white pine as they stood growing. The trees I saw were all fresh fallen. Cross-examined by Mr Izard - I saw the bush some time before I went with Mr. Booth. I had some timber of my own that I sold to Mr Booth for 3,000 feet of good sound timber, valued at 10s a hundred at the mill. I got my land cleared by the sale and thought I made a good bargain. I cannot give any estimate of the number of trees I gave in exchange for the timber. About fifteen years ago Mr Maby cut timber on the section in question then Mr Plimmer then Mr Haslem then Mr Harris, Mr Lawrence then worked it and then Mr Booth took it. These different sawmill proprietors cut the timber pretty closely. They used to pick the best. The timber was not quite all gone. I wanted to buy but was refused and did not examine it. Mr William Burt junior has not dealt with me about the timber. Re-examined by Mr Travers I am quite sure of the value of the timber I dealt in with Booth. This closed the plaintiff's case. Mr Izard reviewed the case for the defence, and called William Booth junior who stated I am a partner in the firm of W Booth and Co. The defendant is my father. Last year our firm consisting of four partners were carrying on business at the Upper Hutt as sawmill proprietors. I negotiated for timber with Burt junior at his store. My father was present at the time. We all went together to look at the timber before making any agreement. We did not go over the whole of the section but went to a place from which we could see it all. We saw the timber and talked about it. There was both growing and felled timber on the ground. [An argument here arose as to whether the term "timber" included both growing and felled trees. His Honor held after some discussion and reference to authorities that it did.] Examination continued I wrote the agreement produced. [Copy of agreement - Memorandum of agreement made this second day of September between Mr Wm Burt and Messrs W. Booth and Co. The aforesaid William Burt agrees to allow the timber now on his land to be fetched away by W. Booth and Co. at their convenience and the said W Booth and Co. agree to give in payment 3000 feet of picked offal timber cut at the mill and to keep the fences in good condition while bringing the same away signed W Burt, W Booth and Co., W. Booth.] In pursuance of this agreement we went on the land and cut matai, totara, and white pine, which we afterwards removed with timber already felled. The totara trees were almost all saplings from a foot to fifteen inches through of value for some purposes but not as totara timber. It was fit for scantling &c. The larger trees were lying on the ground and not of much use. It did not pay us to take away the dead timber we lost by it. It was a benefit to the ground to clear away this dead timber. We got about 25,000 feet of sound timber from the section, valued at about 1s. or 12s. per 100 feet all round the cost was not less than from 9s to 10s. The average value at the mill of picked offal timber is 6s per 100 feet. The first intimation that I had from the plaintiff of any claim was about the 9th of February. Previous to this notice our men had been cutting for more than two months. I had a conversation with Mr Henry Burt and he said nothing about any objection to cutting the timber. Some time before Christmas I had dealings with Mr W Burt about some standing grass on part of the section referred to. He said he had not thought of selling it as he had arranged with a man to cut, thresh, and stack it at 30s. per acre. The dealings came to nothing as he wanted £3 per acre. He did not say that his father had anything to do with it. I had other dealing with the son about this land. Some time before Christmas I asked W Burt what he would charge per head per week for assessment of some bullocks. He only agreed for two bullocks at 1s. 3d. per head. At this time he said nothing about the land being his father's. I knew nothing about his father until the notice of prosecution came. I saw Mr Rouse upon the land preparing piles for removal. I don't know that he felled timber. He crosscut timber both before and after we had anything to do with the land. When we left the fences were in good order. Mr W Burt came to the section about the middle of December for timber. He said "I've got a lot of timber to get out." I said "Yes about 3,000 feet, I suppose." He said, "Which can I have?" I told him to pick whatever would suit him best from two or three heaps of sawn timber lying before him. He took what he wanted and called me to count it which I did debiting him with it in the books. He took about 208 feet and removed it to the back part of the store. Before he left the Upper Hutt I gave him notice that the remainder of the 3000 feet was at his disposal. He did not take it. It is customary to cut timber on "tythe." In cutting a good bush a " tythe" of 6d. per 100 feet is usual. A good marketable totara would run from 1000 to 1500 feet of good timber. For inferior bush the "tythe" allowed is much less. The 3000 feet of offal timber was quite as much as the timber we got was worth. At this stage of the proceedings His Honor adjourned the Court for thirty-five minutes. On resuming, the witness cross-examined by Mr Travers stated All timber that was totara and not heart was treated as red pine. There was very little of matai on the ground but some standing that was useful. I was on the ground six or eight times. We left timber on the ground some of which was totara, some matai, and some white pine. We left nothing that was available for timber. We do not keep special accounts of results of different purchases. Mr Robinson's timber was about the same value as Burt's timber. When I dealt with Mr William Burt I took him for the principal in the transaction. The accounts of the store were rendered in the name of Thos. Burt, but I did not know that he was connected with William Burt. It cost 3s. 9d. per hundred to send our timber into town. We sold totara for 17s. per 100 feet to the timber merchants. Red pine we got 1s. 0d. for and matai 12s. 6d. The cost of delivery in town was included in the cost estimated by me just now of 9s. to 10s, per 100 feet. We got about 25,000 feet off the whole section. I have been in the mill-sawing business for about two years. I have not worked in the mill. Have mostly bought and sold. We could cut about 15,000 feet a day with good timber. Re-examined by Mr Izard Scarcely any of the timber lying on the ground was worth cutting up. A few of the standing trees produced good timber. Wm Booth stated I am the defendant in this action. I never saw plaintiff until to-day that I know of. I did not know of his existence until I received the notice of action. I had previously dealt with W Burt about the timber in question. He said nothing about his father in the matter. I was present when the arrangement was made with my son and W Burt. The latter said nothing about the ownership of the land. I had been cutting timber before Mr Henry Burt came up. When he came he said, You must stop cutting I replied I had nothing at all to do with him, and would not take any notice of him. He did not say it belonged to his brother. He said we might take the matai, but mustn't touch the totara. There were about from 20,000 to 25,000 feet of good timber cut from the section altogether, which was worth at our mill about 9s. per 100 feet. The value of picked offal timber at the mill is about 6s. per 100 feet. The bush in this instance had been cut very close for fit timber. I do not know whether any fencing has been done since we left the land. Mr Rouse cut timber for some fencing which he put up whilst we were there some forty or fifty chains. Cross-examined by Mr Travers There is not much timber on any of the sections about that neighbourhood. The stuff we cut down would not have been of much use for fencing. Material of any kind is difficult to get in the locality.

Benjamin Sewell stated I am in the employment of Booth and Co., and have been for some time. I saw the timber on the section in question and helped to cut it. There was about 20,000 or 25,000 feet of timber cut by Booth and Co. off the section, consisting of matai, white and totara, worth about 9s. per 100 feet at the mill. The profit would be about 2s. per 100 feet on such timber. I think 3000 feet of offal timber was the full value of the timber. I would not give any tithe on such timber. My estimate of the 25,000 feet of timber is formed from the number of logs put into the mill, which I should think was about 150. The average size of the trees would be from fifteen to eighteen inches through in the centre of the log. There were some larger. They would average about 200 feet of good timber. Very little of it was good for fencing.

W Burt stated I am a son of plaintiff. I keep a store for my father at the Upper Hutt and am managing man for the place and land. I had some dealings with Booth about the land and showed him the timber. The agreement produced marked D is signed by me. I did not say anything about the ownership of the property when making the bargain. I had not dealt with any one previous to this agreement. I dealt with Mr Booth about the grass in a part of the paddock, and named a price. I had permission from my father to sell it. I dealt with Booth about cattle grazing and also with other people. I had permission from my father to do so. I knew that my father was bound to cut so much timber every year and he told me to sell the matai that was lying on the ground. I keep accounts between myself and my father. I got some timber from Booth and used it for placing hay upon. In my accounts I never entered the offal timber. I did not take the timber which I placed the hay upon on account of the 3000 feet named in the agreement. I did not enter in the accounts between myself and father the grazing. Cross-examined by Mr Travers I had no authority from my father to sell the growing totara timber on the land. The transaction between Rouse and myself was for some totara logs for clearing some of the ground. He also did some fencing which was paid for in goods but not timber. I had authority from my father to graze cattle on the ground, but no authority to sell the growing timber on the section in question. When Booth went on the ground there were about fifteen acres of timber growing. When I went with Booth to the section and said I supposed he knew the totara wasn't included, he said, oh he knew all about it. I said my father would not like him to cut the totara. He said that I had signed the agreement. After getting the note from my father, Booth came and asked me if I was going to unlock the gate. I said no. He said you had better say, here Booth, cut it all, and I'll give you all my custom. He then took off the hinges of the gate. I was merely looking after the place. Re-examined I could not when my father got the lease to his property.

James Bayliss stated I live at Upper Hutt, and occupy land adjoining Burt's. I have had dealings with Booth and Co., and sold them timber. My land had been picked through by saw-mill proprietors in the same way that Burt's had been. I was satisfied with my bargain. This closed the evidence for the defence.

Mr. Izard then addressed the jury at some length for the defence, dwelling chiefly on the point that the plaintiff had placed his son in such a position with regard to the store business and supervision of land, negotiating for the sale of grass, arising stock, &c, that defendant or anyone would naturally recognise him as an authorised agent, with power from his father to deal about the timber on the estate in the same manner that he did with other property. Mr Travers, in addressing the jury on behalf of the plaintiff, amongst other arguments contended that there was no evidence to prove direct agency in the matter of the timber in question. His Honor then directed the jury on the following issues

[1] Was the plaintiff at the time of the committing of the alleged trespasses, in the declaration mentioned in the lawful possession of the land in the declaration mentioned? The jury would find in the affirmative.

[2] Did the defendant commit the alleged trespasses, in the declaration mentioned or any of them In this also they would reply yes

[3] If so, did he commit such alleged trespass with the leave and license of the plaintiff? This was a matter for the jury to decide upon.

[4] Was one William Burt in the fourth and fifth pleas respectively mentioned, the agent of the plaintiff for the purposes and with the authority therein respectively mentioned, and did he as such agent, and for and on behalf of the plaintiff, make and enter into the agreement in the said several pleas set forth in manner therein mentioned? This also the jury would have to consider upon.

[5] Had the plaintiff, at the time of the committing of the said alleged trespasses or any of them, notice of the said agreement set forth in the fourth and fifth pleas respectively, and did he ratify and confirm the same as in the said fifth plea alleged? On this the jury would decide in the negative.

[6] Did the said William Burt in the said fifth plea mentioned with the knowledge and consent of the plaintiff receive from the defendant the offal timber in the said plea mentioned in part payment of timber sold to the defendants, as in the fourth and fifth pleas alleged? In this the jury would return a negative.

[7] Is the plaintiff entitled to recover any, and what, damages by reason of the cause of action in the declaration set forth? This the jury had to consider. The jury then retired, and after an absence of a quarter of an hour returned with the following findings.

On the first issue Yes - on the second Yes - on the third Yes - on the fourth Yes - on the fifth No - on the sixth No - and on the seventh Yes one shilling - Judgment for defendant. The Court then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

Death – BURT On the 15th September at his late residence Lower Hutt Thomas Burt aged 69 years deeply regretted

Evening Post newspaper 15 September 1888

Death of Mr Thomas Burt - The pioneer settlers of Wellington - those who have witnessed the rising of a populous city and the establishment of thriving settlements in the room of the wilderness which they found on arrival have to-day to lament the disappearance from their ranks of another of their most sturdy comrades. We sincerely regret to have to chronicle the death from heart disease of Mr Thomas Burt which occurred at his residence Lower Hutt at about 1 o'clock this morning. Mr Burt was a native of Launceston Cornwall and arrived at Port Nicholson about the year 1843 in the brig Attila being then a robust young man of about 24 summers. The Attila continuing her voyage to Auckland Mr Burt went with her and he settled temporarily in the Waikato district near the site of the present township of Alexandra. He did not however remain there long and a couple of years later found him back in the Wellington district. The manner in which he made the journey is characteristic of the early stages of the colony and would surprise many of the present generation. Lines of steamers there were none and sailing vessels were very few and not at all regular in their services so Mr Burt had no alternative but to walk most of the distance down the coast. He climbed over the ranges between Waikato and the head of the Mokau River descended the river in a canoe and thence came on foot from one native hapu to another receiving right royal treatment from the Maoris en route. On his return to this district he established himself at Lower Hutt and shared with his fellow settlers the dangers of the stirring times between 1845 and 1848 when the murders were committed in the valley by Rauparaha's people and all the male European inhabitants were placed under arms for their own defence. Mr Burt's occupation was that of a storekeeper but in addition to this he undertook the conveyance of the commissariat stores from the settled neighbourhood to the camp which had been formed at Taita and also brought back some of the dead and wounded from the scene of bloodshed. Since the days when the terrors of native troubles were at an end the deceased gentleman has quietly carried on his store at Lower Hutt in conjunction with one of his sons and though his ailment forbade any active exertion he was always able to direct the affairs of the business. Early in his experience as a colonist Mr Burt married the daughter of Mr Wilkie (another old settler at the Hutt) who survives him and who is supported in her bereavement by a large family consisting of two unmarried daughters, one widowed daughter, the relict of the late Mr Woods of Wainui, two sons, and three other daughters married to well-known residents in the provincial district namely Mr Robert Orr, Mr Robert Cleland, and Mr Henry Sanson of Sanson township. The deceased never took any prominent part in public life as regards local government affairs but he will live in the memory of all who knew him as one of the good old school of colonists unobtrusive in manner open-handed with his means and ever ready with friendly counsel to any person in need of assistance. His influence with the natives was considerable and on more than one occasion his persuasions were of public service in at least averting bloodshed for the time in the periods of serious conflict. Mr Burt has always expressed the desire to be buried beside his brother in the Anglican cemetery Lower Hutt and there his remains will accordingly be interred on Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.
