Constable O'Farrell of Johnsonville and Lyster of Petone are about to retire from the Police Force on compensation. Both men are old officers. Lyster joined the services in 1859 and now had the honour of having had the longest term of service in New Zealand. His number was two and it is pleasant to note that long as has been his connection with the Force he has an absolutely clean record.

Evening Post newspaper 30 January 1896

Constable Lyster stationed at Petone retires on compensation from the Police Force tomorrow after 37 years' service. Constable Lyster can show a longer term of service than any other constable in New Zealand. He joined the Force in Wellington in the early part of 1859 and was soon afterwards transferred to Upper Hutt where for 21 years he was in charge and saw some stirring times during the native troubles. Since then he has served at Tawa Flat, Porirua, Wanganui and Waverley and since March 1890 has been in charge at Petone. Steps are being taken to suitably recognise Constable Lyster long term of service.

#90th Birthday Celebrations - The anniversary of the birth of Mrs Selina Hepburn, who was born 90 years ago, was celebrated at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs Frank Marshment of Heretaunga. Mrs Hepburn was born in Birmingham England in 1856 and twelve months later came to New Zealand with her parents on the sailing vessel Oliver Lang. Her father the late Constable Lyster joined the Armed Constabulary and later on the formation of the Police Force was appointed Constable at Upper Hutt and surrounding districts including Pahautanui which in those days was menaced by troublesome Maoris. The Block House at Trentham was erected in those days for the safety of the civilian population but was seldom used for that purpose. Mrs I Hepburn lived there as a child and went to the Government School with her six brothers and-sisters where they paid 1/-per week. She also remembers Court Days being held at the Block House where she used to hold the reins of the Judge's horse while he presided at the session. Her father in his duties as Constable had frequent searches for the "Red Coats" as they were called who deserted from their ships while in port. Mrs Hepburn was the eldest of seven whose mother died when she was 16 years of age leaving her to care for her father and the rest of the family. She later married the late Mr William Hepburn then a member of the Armed Constabulary at Wellington. Mr Hepburn was one of nine volunteers who ventured into the King v Country to present to Te Kooti a free pardon from the Government which settled the fued between the Maori and the pakeha (full details not transcribed) reference Upper Hutt City Library website Upper Hutt Leader newspaper volume VIII number 48 date 24 December 1946
