Upper Hutt Leader 24 April 1958

Landowner Not To Sell Rear Sections - A Te Marua landowner has been prevented from cutting up a block of land in order to have large rear sections with small frontages and incapable of more subdivision. The subdivision was proposed by Mr C B Molloy whose appeal has been disallowed by the Town and Country Planning Appeal Board. Three and a half acres were to be cut into nine sections, four with frontages to existing roads and five large rear sections with narrow frontages to the roads there being no internal roading. The Council had recommended to decline the scheme. Mr Molloy submitted when the board heard his appeal that large sections would encourage life building of substantial types of homes. Evidence was given for the Lands and Survey Department that sooner or later the owners of large sections wanted to subdivide them. The board said in its decision released on Friday last that there was no reason why large sections should not be provided without their being rear lots with narrow frontages.
