The Salisbury Poultry farm land was subdivided and two streets were named after two of Ernest and Kate's sons John Cecil Salisbury and Charles Henry Salisbury.

Cecil Street was named after John Cecil Salisbury. Cecil's (1900-1984) parents Kate Amelia & Ernest James Salisbury owned a poultry farm. Later their grandson David Hudson Salisbury (1927-2015) developed the land which became an extension of the Clouston Park Estate development. In the same subdivision was Charles Street named after Cecil's older brother Charles Henry Salisbury who was killed in action during WWI. Their oldest brother Arthur Ernest Salisbury operated the Hokowhitu Poultry Farm. The Poultry farm and house near the corner of Henry Street and Main Road North (now Fergusson Drive) was owned by Kate and Ernest Salisbury the parents of Cecil.

Charles Street was named after Charles Henry Salisbury. His parents Kate Amelia and Ernest James Salisbury owned a poultry farm. Kate and Ernest's grandson David Hudson Salisbury (1927-2015) developed the land which became part of the Clouston Park Estate extension. In the same subdivision was Cecil Street named after Charles's younger brother John Cecil Salisbury. Lance Sergeant Charles Henry Salisbury (1895-1918), service number 20242, served in World War One and was killed in action on 09 September 1918 in France. Charles is buried at Gouzeaucourt New British cemetery in Nord France.
